Canterbury, Connecticut

SELECTMEN'S CORNER

As I sit at my desk on yet another hot and humid August morning, looking out over my yard, listening to the dawn chorus of birds and crickets, I am reminded of how nice it is to be here and enjoy nature and the open spaces that define Canterbury.

However, while we may feel many miles away from the rest of the world, we are not. Over the summer we have had a number of break-ins and robberies throughout town. I want to remind everyone to exercise due diligence and caution, be sure to lock your vehicles and houses and secure your property. Also, this is a good time for neighbors to help each other and be aware of what is going on in your neighborhood and report all suspicious activity and crimes to the police.

While on the topic of being prepared, we are in hurricane season, and while the forecast calls for fewer storms this year, we still need to plan ahead and make sure we have the essential supplies; water, non-perishable food and fuel, to get through the first 72 hours after a storm.

I want to take this opportunity to welcome a new member to our extended community, Joanie DiMartino the new Director of the Prudence Crandall Museum. The museum is an important part of our town and celebrates our legacy and I look forward to working with Joanie to help bring the museum and our town to a wider audience.

In closing, I want to thank all the people who give of themselves to help make Canterbury the great town it is to call home.

Chris Lippke—First Selectman

Canterbury Agricultural Commission

Have you stopped by the Canterbury Farmers Market this year? Now is a good time to get fresh produce, check out farm products, and explore what others have to offer. The market is every Tuesday night from 4 pm to 6:30 pm at the Town Hall.

On Saturday, September 22nd, Celebrating Agriculture will be at the Woodstock Fairgrounds from 9 am to 3 pm. There is no charge for parking or admission. Breakfast will be available from 9 to 11 and there will be a variety of lunch options with local foods. You can take your friends and family on a wagon ride through the neighboring dairy farm, see farm animals, lots of exhibits, hands on activities, participate in the scavenger hunt, ride the garden tractor train, see old and new farm equipment, just enjoy learning why agriculture and our local farmers are an important part of the Last Green Valley. You can find Celebrating Agriculture on Facebook or go to www.celebratingagriculture.org.

On September 27th, the Woodstock Agriculture Commission will host a program on Agri-tourism at the Woodstock Town Hall at 7:00 pm. All are welcome to attend.

Yikes fall is approaching! Farmers will be hauling equipment and trucks down the roads to harvest corn from the fields. Please give them room to turn and have patience with slow moving equipment. The crops must be brought back to the farm to provide feed for the animals. The corn is put in a trench silo then covered with plastic and ferments to provide a good feed for the cows. This must last until a new crop is ready to harvest again next fall.

Visit our booth at Old Home Day too!

Canterbury Seniors

In a ceremony held at the June meeting of the Canterbury Seniors, Quilts of Valor representatives Jan Roberta Main and Marsha Burr presented one-of-a-kind patriotic handmade quilts to three local veterans. Receiving quilts were Robert Droesch, Dr. Valentine Galasyn and Alton Orlomoski. At our July meeting, we had the pleasure of hearing an interesting presentation by resident and author Dr. Stephen Wibberley. He shared some of the content from the book, Canterbury, Connecticut - Characters of the 20th Century, which he coauthored with Sheila Mason Gale.

Canterbury Seniors hold their meetings and potluck luncheons the second Thursday of every month at 11:00AM in the Town Hall Community Center. Upcoming meetings are scheduled for September 13, October 11, November 8 and December 13. Finnish American Heritage Society

Happy Fall from the Finnish American Heritage Society. We will certainly welcome the cooler weather and lower humidity. The summer is typically a slower time at FAHS, however several events were held. The Annual Chicken Barbeque was served on May 19th to a sell-out crowd. On June 3rd a large community audience enjoyed music played by the Mansfield-based Wormwood String Quartet. The free concert was the first musical event sponsored by the Makipuro Arts. The afternoon of music was dedicated to Nanni (Nancy) Lassila, who was very important to the history of performing arts at the Hall. On June 16 family and friends of the late Jack Smiley gathered to dedicate the new Jack Smiley Memorial Sculpture fashioned by Michael Saari, a master metalsmith from Woodstock, CT.

Postponed: Weaving Classes-thank you to those who called with an interest in weaving lessons. Unfortunately, we are not able to offer lessons at this time. With apologies for any inconvenience and with sincere apologies for the incorrect number posted in the previous newsletter.

Prudence Crandall Museum

As the new curator and site superintendent of the Prudence Crandall Museum, I want to take a moment to introduce myself. My name is Joan DiMartino, and I have been in the museum field for over 25 years, working at museums of various sizes from small historic house museums to large sites, such as Mystic Seaport. My scholarly background is in women's history, specifically the suffrage movement, so to have the opportunity to share Prudence Crandall's and Sarah Harris' story is an amazing opportunity for me, and I look forward to engaging the Canterbury community in the multi-layered aspects of this rich and important history.

Upcoming programs include: Prudence Crandall Day, Saturday, September 1st, 10 am to 4 pm. Celebrate the 215th birthday of Connecticut's State Heroine! The 32nd Annual Prudence Crandall Day will take place rain or shine. Enjoy crafts, demonstrations, live music by "Song-A-Day," 19th-century children's games on the lawn, vintage glass sale, and FREE admission to the Museum! Food available for purchase until 3 pm by the Canterbury Lions Club, with a gluten-free birthday cake served at 3 pm to all at no cost.

NEW THIS YEAR: In the spirit of Prudence Crandall's commitment to education, we will also be collecting donations of school supplies (pencils/pens, calculators, notebooks, backpacks, crayons/markers, rulers, etc.) to support the students in need at local schools.

Also, for Trunk or Treat, Wednesday, October 31st, 6 pm to 8 pm, Museum staff and volunteers will participate in the Town's annual Halloween event at Town Hall. Our treats will include Free Admission tickets to all children. Tickets can be used for 1 free Museum admission, valid for the 2019 season.

This will be the first year the Prudence Crandall Museum participates in Smithsonian Magazine's Museum Day, on Saturday, September 22nd, 10 am to 4 pm. Museum Day is a one-day event providing free entry to anyone presenting a Museum Day ticket. Participants are allowed to download one ticket per email address. The ticket provides free general admission on Saturday, September 22, 2018, for two people. For more information, or to acquire a ticket visit: smithsonianmag.com/museumday

And finally, all four Connecticut State Museums are participating in Free for CT. On the third Sunday of each month, May—October, 2018, show your CT I.D. and enjoy FREE admission for Connecticut residents. Free for CT dates through the end of the season are Sundays, September 16th and October 21st.

While the Prudence Crandall Museum closes for our official tour season at the end of October, we are open by appointment November—April, and are in the process of planning a holiday program for the first weekend in December. Stay tuned, and visit our website at www.cultureandtourism.org and "like" our Facebook page for the most current information. If you'd like to schedule a tour off-season, please call 860-546-7800 x. 8 or email joan.dimartino@ct.gov. Enjoy the cool weather and turning leaves, and we'll see you sometime this fall!

Canterbury Education Information Group

What a momentous few months we have had here in Canterbury! We are extremely happy to have gotten past the roof referendum and all the following steps that have gotten us to this moment. Seeing the crews up on the school roof replacing what had been neglected for too long is so incredible! A huge thanks to every single person who had any involvement in making this happen. It took a huge community effort!

The budget season is finally behind us and we are so thankful for a few low-key months to enjoy summer! It was remarkable to get the increase in the mill rate approved by the tax-payers on the first try. Its important for our community to keep up with inflation costs and make sure our town is maintained safely while still being fiscally responsible! Thank you to all the town boards for their hard work and dedication to put forth the best possible budget they could.

We will be holding some upcoming workshops with the CT School Finance Project. These Community Conversation workshops really help in understanding the state finances and how they affect local education. There is a lot to learn to learn at these workshops and we encourage citizens to join to be better informed about education finances! The upcoming dates are 9/25/18 at 7PM and 10/23/18 at 7PM. Both workshops will be in the library conference room!

Canterbury Elementary School PTO

The year is off to a great start! The CES PTO has major changes to roll out this year thanks to the growing number of families getting involved! Look for some great new programs and fundraisers as well as some of our well-established events. The officers and members work to improve and maintain a supportive relationship between parents, school, and students. We provide a variety of social opportunities for the students and families and supply those "little extras" for CES.

You can look for us at the CES open house. We will have information about getting involved and how you can help.

Also, we will be giving each CES student one brand new free book during open house hours!

We are very excited for our upcoming Gingerbread Run on 12/16/18! For more information please go to our FB event page: <https://www.facebook.com/Gingerbread-Run-Supporting-the-Canterbury-Elementary-PTO-259224197990558/>.

Friends of the Prudence Crandall Museum

A new chapter in the history of the Prudence Crandall Museum begins by Drew Crandall

This year has been a season of change for the Prudence Crandall Museum. In February, Kazimiera "Kaz" Kozlowski retired after serving as our Curator for 35 years. In July, Mystic resident Joan DiMartino became our new Curator. She has been working in the Connecticut history museum community for over ten years, most recently as Executive Director of the Smith-Harris House in Niantic and Communications and Museum Administrator for the Colchester Historical Society.

In July, I became the first member of the Crandall family to ever serve on the Friends of the Prudence Crandall Museum Board, and was elected President for 2018-2019. To be clear, I am not a direct descendant of Prudence (she never had biological children), but I am part of the same Crandall family going back to the Rev. John Crandall. He landed in Boston in 1634 and was one of the founders of Rhode Island and the City of Westerly. Prudence and I share the same genealogy until the 4th generation of Crandall's in the New World, where our branches on the family tree split.

Obviously, the Crandall family considers Prudence to be not only Connecticut's Official Heroine, but also our "family heroine" for her courageous stand in the 1830s. For me, it's an honor to serve as this year's Friends president, and to leverage my Crandall name to help to preserve the legacy of Prudence Crandall and promote the Prudence Crandall Museum.

I encourage and invite you to come to celebrate Prudence's 215th birthday during the 32nd annual Prudence Crandall Day at the Museum on Saturday, September 1 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Joan, our new curator, will be there as well as myself and many enthusiastic Friends of the Museum.

The free event will be held rain or shine, and will include crafts, demonstrations, live music by the Song-A-Day duet, 19th-century children's games on the lawn, a vintage glass sale, and free admission to the Museum. Food will be available for purchase until 3 p.m. by the Canterbury Lions Club, with a gluten-free birthday cake served at 3 p.m. to all at no cost.

New this year, in the spirit of Prudence' commitment to education, the Museum will collect donations of school supplies such as pencils/pens, calculators, notebooks, backpacks, crayons/markers, and rulers to support students in need at local schools. For information, visit our website.

On Saturday, September 22 at 12:30 p.m. at the Museum of Connecticut History, 231 Capitol Avenue in Hartford, the Prudence Crandall Museum will be a sponsor of a special, one-time performance by actors portraying historical figures connected to the Connecticut Freedom Trail. Donna Dusfrene will portray Prudence Crandall. For details, click www.CTfreedomtrail.org.

On Saturday, September 29, Friends of the Prudence Crandall Museum will have a tabletop display from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Groton Local History Fair at Groton Public Library, 52 Newtown Road. Friends volunteers will staff the display and encourage the public to learn more about Prudence and visit the Museum. Details are online at www.groton-ct.gov/library/.

In closing, sometimes people make deliberate plans to visit faraway historic sites, but think they will get around to visiting local sites but never do. This fall, please visit the Museum, meet our new curator, take the tour, shop at the book store, join the Friends and encourage family, neighbors and co-workers to do likewise. The Prudence Crandall Museum is a gem in your own back yard!

CANTERBURY PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Hello from Canterbury Public Schools. We are all revving up for another school year, with our opening day on August 28. And with the new roof at Baldwin Middle School being replaced, we will surely be ready. Thank-you to all who had a hand in bringing this to fruition. We have two new staff members in the Central Support Team; Jeff Ferranti is the new Director of Pupil Services, replacing Jodi Davis and Jason Lathrop is the new Director of Finance, replacing Janice Thurlow.

From the Director of Pupil Services, Jeff Ferranti: I am very fortunate to have been appointed Director of Pupil Services this past July.

What does the Pupil Services team do - The Canterbury Public Schools pupil services team of qualified professionals and staff work closely with families and educators to support ALL children, especially those who are at risk or experiencing challenges academically, emotionally and/or socially. A continuum of services, in compliance with State and Federal guidelines, is provided to accommodate students needs. We also supports our Canterbury high school aged students that attend area schools.

Growth Mindset and the Power of Yet - "I can't, I'm not smart enough, You do it for me, I'll never learn" are just a few of the "Fixed Mindset" statements that keep our children, and perhaps some adults, from reaching their highest potential. A "Growth Mindset" is one where statements such as "You can't do it YET" or "You have not learned it YET" promotes the belief that our brains and learning can grow over time. So the next time you hear someone stuck in a "Fixed Mindset"... please encourage them to consider the "Power of Yet"!

From Canterbury Elementary School We welcome a new staff member this year, our new 2nd grade teacher, Mr. William Kolodziej. He comes to us from Old Lyme where he was a substitute in grade 1 last year. We are excited to welcome him to our school community.

We are planning many fun events this year, including a book fair in November during parent/teacher conferences and a "Gingerbread Run" on December 16th.

Our school-wide assemblies will continue and so will our science "Kid's Labs", an afterschool program which allows students to explore different science related topics and activities. In June, we had over 100 students at the Kid's Lab!

Academically we will continue to focus on inspiring our students to love to learn! We will continue with our new computer assessments which measure student growth in reading and mathematics, called MAP Growth. We use the data from this test and other measures to tailor our instruction to meet the specific needs of our students. Our teachers plan often together and so improve the success of all.

We look forward to a Fall full of the sound of children learning, playing, and growing. Thank you to all the volunteers who have helped over the past years! You make this school a better place!

From Baldwin Middle School

The school has been working throughout the summer in preparation for August 28th. Each year, there is a continual focus on making the school operate more smoothly, create programming that supports high school success, and always improving the climate and culture of the school community. As the first day approaches, there are some key components that I would like to highlight for you specifically:

PowerSchool/ PowerLunch Online Program: Each parent has unique access to this system, which is accessible from the school district website. The areas available for parent access this upcoming school year are more advanced than in the past. Teachers will be updating their gradebooks every 3 weeks (approximately) so that parents are more frequently informed of progress. This information will be in addition to the term grades (progress report/ report card), attendance, and lunch account info already accessible. Regarding the lunch account access, parents can see real time the balance and expenditures.

Building Upgrades: During the summer, the school roofing construction project began and is expected to be completed during the first weeks of the school year. This project was a complex and coordinated effort between the town, the schools, and the entire community.

Assessment and Curricular Resource Upgrades: During the spring, students in Grade 5 through 8 participated in the spring administration of the NWEA (Northwest Evaluation Association) MAP (Measures of Academic Progress) assessment and this test allows the school to determine growth over the course of the school year as related to testing norms and national percentile. The results will be distributed in the near future along with the Spring 2018 Smarter Balanced Assessment score.

Communication and the School Website: The school will continue to utilize the school website where one can find all important forms available, current school and district calendars, and links to ways to communicate with teachers and staff members.

School Policy and Student Handbook: Students will receive a hard copy of the student handbook and it is available on the school website for reference to student behavioral expectations and school policies.

Breakfast and Lunch Menu: The school will continue to post monthly menu offerings on the Food Services page of the school website.

Free & Reduced Lunch Application: The federal application for Free and Reduced-price School Meals or Free Milk is available on the Food Services page on the school website. If you have any questions, please contact the Business Office.

Grade Level Configuration: Based on the importance of allowing for ample time for all content areas and enrollment levels, there are two looping teams of teachers at BMS. There is a team of teachers for Grade 5 and 6; and a team of teachers for Grade 7 and 8. This allows teachers to teach one content area for two years and allow classroom expectations to be known which will allow for smoother yearly transitions.

Why Canterbury? Student/Community Involvement Project: During the upcoming year, students will be working together in their advisories to better understand the various components of the town and its' foundational values. There are some aspects of this that will need community input and feedback so if you are interested in meeting with students or speaking to teachers about your experiences and what it has to offer, please contact the school directly.
